The discovery of the reality of Christ, the search for fullness, the communion that feeds life, the yes to the call: the story of Fr. Luca De Chiara, ordained in 2023

I saw all my hesitations and my fears come to an end, and I recognized the Fraternity as the place prepared for me by God to fulfill my life. “Son, but what kind of man do you want to be? Just a man of culture, or a man who knows what it means to be a man?” It was the last months of the eighth grade when the rector, who had recently taken over my school, addressed this question to me with which he invited me to consider enrolling in the scientific high school that was being inaugurated in the Catholic institution I was attending. That question, thrown out as a sort of challenge and basically incomprehensible for a thirteen-year-old boy, has been indelibly etched in my memory, and I recognize it today as one of the fundamental turning points of my life.

Indeed, without that provocation, the following year I would not have found myself in the class where, thanks to so many classmates and that same rector who also became my Italian professor, I met Gioventù Studentesca [High School Youth] and the movement of Communion and Liberation. The true friendship with those classmates, which continues to this day with so many of them, and the passion with which the Italian professor showed us the relevance of everything to the meaning of our lives—“from the particular to the Whole,” as he loved to repeat—gave new depth to that faith to which my family, with great love, had introduced me. In those years of high school came for me the ultimate discovery of the ideal of Christ as a real, and therefore, valid ideal for my life.

It was, however, during the years of university, while I was studying Architecture in Turin, in my city, that, thanks to the friendship with a priest of the Movement, the concrete hypothesis of giving my life to God found its way into me. It was a Sunday afternoon, returning from the Benedictine monastery of the Cascinazza, together with this priest friend, and while I was driving, this question came to me, “And if You, Lord, were asking me to give You all of my life?” It was destabilizing to recognize this question take shape in me, in the passage from the profundity of my heart to my mind, in a clear way.

I saw all my hesitations and my fears come to an end, and I recognized the Fraternity as the place prepared for me by God to fulfill my life.

There, followed a period of discernment to discover the origin and meaning of that question that was manifesting itself as persistent and inescapable. While on the one hand, I sensed that my life could be fulfilled in the priesthood—looking at so many luminous witnesses I had encountered up to that point—on the other hand, a concern grew within me that I was facing a life in solitude, as I observed in many cases, and which I felt was untenable. Faced with this anxiety, the priest with whom I was speaking advised me to suspend the path of discernment and concentrate on completing college, “Surely, if the Lord wants to make you more his own, he will make you understand.”

After finishing my studies, I began to work as a professor in the same school that I had frequented as a young man and to collaborate with a few design studios of my city. Despite the fact that my work was interesting and I lived with enthusiasm and passion, and that [...] many interests filled my life, something unresolved persisted like a constant undertone in my heart and it made me live everything as limited and unsatisfying. I continued to feel the urgency to take up a radical path for my life.

In 2014, the Fraternity of St. Charles inaugurated its new mission in Turin at the Parish of Santa Giulia, and a young deacon was sent to teach religion at the high school where I worked. We became fast friends with this young man, roughly my age, and it was he, taking my questions about the Fraternity seriously, who invited me to dinner and introduced me to his brothers.

How beautiful it is to begin to recognize, looking back, the development of the magnificent design that God is knitting with our lives.

Spending time in the home of the missionaries of St. Charles, I was immediately struck by the dimension of fraternal communion that I saw feeding their lives. Finally, in the welcoming warmth of that house, after so much waiting, I saw all my hesitations and my fears come to an end, and I recognized the Fraternity as the place prepared for me by God to fulfill my life. Two years later, in September 2016, I would begin my journey of formation in the seminary on Via Boccea together with the brothers who are with me in priestly ordination and have become among the dearest companions of my life.

How beautiful is to begin to recognize, looking back, the development of the magnificent design that God is knitting with our lives, beginning with a small

“yes,” timid and stuttering, that every day, in the renewal of my availability, becomes reconfirmed, increased and reciprocated with so many unimaginable gifts: giving up everything to follow the Master is truly the hundredfold here below. ■

Fr. Luca De Chiara, FSCB

Every two years, the priests, seminarians, and Missionary Sisters of Saint Charles gather from all over the world to spend a week of vacation together. Last year the title of the vacation was “Life Is Mission.” Between July 17 and 23 they spent time in Corvara (North East Italy). The days were filled with meetings, lessons, testimonies, evenings of singing and hiking in the Dolomites.

SO CLOSE TO THE HEARTS OF CHILDREN

By Fr. Matteo Invernizzi, FSCB

For Christmas, we had a beautiful Nativity Play for the children enrolled in the Religious Education program at Nativity. In a conversation with Miss Diane, Miss Beverly, Sister Mariagrazia, and the catechists, we realized that probably, in the public school that most of our kids attend, no one would have told them about the birth of Jesus. Therefore, during Advent, we worked with the children to make the sheep, the angel wings, and costumes for the play. Above all, we prepared the songs to sing after every scene, from the Annunciation to the flight to Egypt. Some of the children didn't even know about the existence of the Magi! Thanks to the catechists, everyone had a small part in the play: the kids from first to third grade were angels, sheep, and shepherds. The fourth and fifth graders were kings and holy family members and often had to say a few words or act like one of the main characters: Mary, Joseph, or the Angel Gabriel. Miss Joann and Miss Lisa prepared the script, following the gospel of Matthew and Luke and connecting the different scenes with great ability.

Beginning from the Annunciation, we went through the central moments of Jesus' infancy: the Birth in Bethlehem, the glory of the Angels and the Shepherds singing together, the visit of the three kings, and the flight to Egypt. After every scene, the children turned to their parents and relatives, inviting them to sing one of the traditional Christmas songs together. From Away in a Manger to Joy to the World and Go, Tell It on the Mountain, the sixty kids and their almost two hundred family members joined their voices in a beautiful choir to celebrate the Birth of Our Lord.

The event of Christmas, the birth of Jesus among shepherds, kings, and angels, is so close to the hearts of children that nothing needs to be explained: it is enough to live it together. The children helped the adults to look once again, with simple eyes, at the mystery of the Son of God, who makes himself flesh.

40 HOURS DEVOTION

FEBRUARY 29 – MARCH 2

This year, during Lent, Nativity will offer the 40 Hours Devotion. In 40 Hours Devotion, the consecrated Eucharist is exposed on the altar in a monstrance for adoration for 40 hours. St. Ignatius spread this devotion, and it dates back to the 1500s. Why 40 hours? 40 Hours Devotion comes from the 40 hours that Christ's body traditionally rested in the tomb. Please prayerfully consider adoring our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament by participating in this event. Soon, a sign-up will be available for all parishioners to choose the adoration time.

ANNULMENT ADVOCATES NEEDED

Nativity Parish is seeking volunteers to act as advocates for those seeking annulments. An advocate in the annulment process is a person who assists the petitioner in putting together their application to consider an annulment of their marriage. The type of work involved is mainly legal in nature, and therefore, ideal candidates for this volunteer opportunity would be retired lawyers, paralegals, or anyone with legal training and time available. The Archdiocese of Denver provides adequate training, which would be offered by video to anyone who is interested in this position.

If you are interested in this opportunity, please contact: Fr. Emanuele Fadini, FSCB at e.fadini@nool.us or after Mass.

STEWARDSHIP IS LIVING IN THE PRESENT STEWARDSHIP SPOTLIGHT

Soon we will be receiving notice that our tax statement detailing contributions to Nativity for 2023 is available. This is a great opportunity to reflect on the blessings we received in the last year. It's easy to get caught up in stewardship being a plan for the future because we pledge what we are going to give for the next year, making a commitment to be met over time. But living stewardship is being in the present; considering what we have and where we are right now and remembering from Whom it comes. Did our offering truly express the thankfulness we experience? Let's reflect upon the year past, remembering the many good things that have come your way. These blessings are your reason for thankfulness. Then at Mass when we receive the Eucharist, let's be thankful for the gift God has given us: His very self. Our tithe is the expression of our thankfulness.

TUESDAY BIBLE STUDY

THE LAMB'S SUPPER: THE MASS AS HEAVEN ON EARTH

BEGINNING
JANUARY 23, 2024
Tuesdays, 1:00–2:30 pm

Beginning January 24, 2024, the Bible study group will discuss the book by Scott Hahn, The Lamb's Supper—the Mass as Heaven on Earth.

Of all things Catholic, there is nothing that is so familiar as the Mass. Yet most Catholics sitting in the pews on Sundays fail to see the powerful drama that unfolds in front of them. Pope John Paul II described the Mass as "Heaven on Earth," explaining that what "we celebrate on Earth is a mysterious participation in the heavenly liturgy." This new book will help readers see the Mass with new eyes, pray the liturgy with a renewed heart, and enter into the Mass more fully, enthusiastically, and intelligently. Questions? Please email the facilitator, Cyndi Beckingham at dcbeckingham@msn.com.

READING RECOMMENDED BY FATHER MATTEO

A Catholic Guide to the End of Life by Dr. Stephen Doran, a deacon, neurosurgeon, and ethicist

AVAILABLE AT THE PARISH BOOKSTORE

FROM THE AUTHOR:

I have been a neurosurgeon for over twenty-five years, and despite the inevitability of death, most of my patients and their families have largely ignored its inescapable reality. I think we all want a good death, but we are not really sure what that means or how to prepare for it. Some of my patients die suddenly and unexpectedly. Some have months of advance notice. [...] Regardless, they—along with the rest of us—want to do this last thing right. [...] My purpose in writing this book is to draw from my experiences and to present the Catholic perspective on the art of dying well, while answering some of the common questions that arise.

MESSAGE OF JOHN PAUL II TO THE NATIONAL CATHOLIC EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES

Vatican, 1979

IT IS A JOY for me to address the members of the National Catholic Educational Association of the United States, as you assemble in the great cause of Catholic Education. [...]

Among the many reflections that could be made at this time there are three points in particular to which I would like to make a brief reference at the beginning of my pontificate. These are: the value of Catholic schools, the importance of Catholic teachers and educators, and the nature of Catholic education itself.

[...] With profound conviction I ratify and reaffirm the words that Paul VI spoke originally to the Bishops of your country: "Brethren, we know the difficulties involved in preserving Catholic schools, and the uncertainties of the future, and yet we rely on the help of God and on your own zealous collaboration and untiring efforts, so that Catholic schools can continue, despite grave obstacles, to fulfill their providential role at the service of genuine Catholic education, and at the service of your country". Yes, the Catholic school must remain a privileged means of Catholic education in America. As an instrument of the apostolate it is worthy of the greatest sacrifices. In order that the Catholic school and the Catholic teachers may truly make their irreplaceable contribution to the Church and to the world, the goal of Catholic education itself must be crystal clear. Beloved sons and daughters of the Catholic Church, brothers and sisters in the faith: Catholic education is above all a question of communicating Christ, of helping to form Christ in the lives of others. [...]

Nativity is under the pastoral care of the Priestly Fraternity of St. Charles Borromeo, a religious order, founded in 1985 by Msgr. Massimo Camisasca in Italy. The order has its origins in the charism of Fr. Luigi Giussani, founder of the Catholic lay movement Communion and Liberation (CL). Here is how the Priestly Fraternity of St. Charles Borromeo is described by the founder, Msgr. Massimo Camisasca:

Fraternity: “The Fraternity is a companionship made up of people that are placed together by an Other. [...] Each of us [...] is continually accompanied by Christ through his brothers.”

Priestly: “The priestly vocation [...] is a continuous communion with God and man. [...] It acts as a bridge between heaven and earth, represents a fundamental link in the history of salvation, and also serves as an important figure in the journey towards unity among men.”

Missionary: “Mission [...] consists simply in entering within the same mission for which God sent His own Son into the world, for which the Son sent the Apostles, and for which, in turn, the Apostles sent other brothers, until the visible echo of that event touched even us.”

The priests of the Fraternity live together in houses of three or more. The communion among them is meant to sustain their vocation and be a path towards conversion. They are willing to be sent around the world wherever the Church has a need, according to the wishes of the bishop of the diocese in which they reside. Learn more at:
