WHEN THE SAINTS GO MARCHING IN

Recently I had the privilege of witnessing the students of Nativity: Faith and Reason and of our faith formation program dress up as saints for the annual All Saints' celebration. In preparation for the great feast, the students learn about the lives of the saints and were encouraged to choose the life of one saint and to discover their unique friendship with Jesus. Then on All Saints' Day, they parade through the parish office hoping to receive candy from the staff and priests. I was deeply moved by the quality of costumes and the selection of saints. There were a few apostles, Saints Francis and Domenic, Saints Claire and Thérèse of Lisieux, as well as more contemporary saints like Saints Maximilian Kolbe, Mother Theresa, John Paul II, and Blessed Carlo Acutis. When I saw the joy on the kids' faces, I wanted to join the parade with them!

My young friends helped me to live this day with increased awareness of the mystery of friendship and personal belonging to what the Church calls the "communion of saints." In this article, I would like to reflect on this special communion to help us to live All Saints' Day with a greater awareness.

What is the communion of saints? St. Paul helps us to understand this important mystery when he writes: "You are no longer strangers or sojourners but are fellow citizens of the holy ones, and members of the household of God" (Ephesians 2:19). Jesus' plan for the Church is that it become a "communion of saints" (Catechism of the Catholic Church, no. 946). Who belongs to it? It is made up of all the people who have been baptized into communion with Jesus Christ. In baptism, we become part of God's amazing family, and our true home is the Church. All the saints that ever lived become our brothers and sisters. The Church teaches that this communion is made of friends in three different stages: 1) Those friends of Christ who are already experiencing the fullness of glory with Him in Heaven, 2) Those friends who have died and are still in need of being purified and prepared for heaven in Purgatory, and 3) Those friends who are still pilgrims on earth. The Church invites us to not merely cherish the memory of the saints that lived in the past but look to them as our living companions and fellow disciples (no. 957). What a gift to discover that we belong to such a great family!

Who are the saints? The saints are above all the friends of Jesus. The saints are those who let themselves be defined by God's infinite love and nothing else. They are holy! Holiness means living life as a school of love of God and of neighbor. God wants us to cultivate the seed of His divine life in us and so it can inform every area of our lives. Everyone is called to become a saint. Holiness is not just for priests and consecrated people but is for everyone. It does not mean being perfect and not sinning but above all accepting with humility one's personal failings and sins and always turning to the Father's merciful embrace. Benedict XVI described the saints as the "best exegesis" of Jesus. In other words, in the lives of the saints the Gospel message of Jesus becomes incarnate. They are the face of God in the world. They are the living proof of God's continual light and presence in the darkness of the world.

How do we become saints? Benedict XVI once answered this question: "To be a saint requires neither extraordinary actions or words nor the possession of exceptional charisms, but first to listen to Jesus and follow Him without losing heart when faced with difficulties." He added that to become a saint one must learn to trust and love Jesus sincerely and accept dying to him or herself. Every form of Christian holiness passes through the Way of the Cross. Jesus made this clear invitation to His friends: "Whoever wishes to come after me must deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me" (Matthew 16:24). To be a saint one must commit to follow Jesus' way of loving through the gift of love and service to God and neighbor. For this reason, becoming a saint is the primary goal and task of every Christian.

Praying with the Saints. St. Paul writes in his letter to the Hebrews: "Since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses let us rid ourselves of every burden and sin that clings to us and persevere in running the race that lies before us" (12:1). Since the saints are our fellow brothers and sisters in Christ it is important to get to know and love them. Just like in any family where the older siblings take the younger ones under their wings, the saints want to be a guide, to watch over and protect us from evil. They have all overcome great difficulties in their lives and their witness helps us to do the same. The lives of the saints reveal the need to commit to training in the spiritual life. A beautiful practice we have in our tradition is the Litany of Saints. When we invoke the intercession of the saints, we find refuge under their protection. It is like running to our older siblings when we get into difficulties or need help.

As we celebrate the Solemnity of All Saints, let us personally respond to the Church's invitation to join the company of the saints who march joyfully and triumphantly towards the Father's house. I would like to invite you to discover the fascinating world of the saints and find a few saint friends to accompany you on your personal faith journey. Let us place ourselves every day at the school of the saints to learn from them the adventure of learning how to love.

Fr. John Roderick.

FROM ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY

On November 11, we celebrate Veterans Day. We lift up our dads and moms, uncles and aunts, brothers and sisters, as well as other friends and family who have served in the military. Say “thanks” to our vets for their service. We enjoy the freedoms of our country because they gave of themselves.

One of the oldest living WWII vets who lived in Colorado recently passed away on October 22. His name was Harold Nelson. Harold celebrated his 108th birthday on February 28. He served with the army in North Africa, Sicily, and Italy on the front lines in the infantry. Staff Sgt. Nelson earned multiple prestigious awards and was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion Post back home. His recent obituary notes that he shared many stories about his helmet and how that helmet helped he and his men during his service.

There are several saints who serve as patron saints of soldiers such as St. Michael the Archangel, St. George, St. Joan of Arc, and St. Sebastian. As a young man, St. Martin of Tours served in the Roman army. He became known for a famous kind act which has also become celebrated in art. As a soldier, Martin came upon a poor, cold beggar in winter. Having compassion, Martin took his sword and cut his cloak in half and shared it with the beggar.

At the St. Vincent de Paul Society (SVDP), we welcome veterans in our mission to help the poor. We have also extended a hand to help veterans after they have returned home. For more information on our local Nativity of Our Lord St. Vincent de Paul chapter, see our FLOCKNOTE site at nool.flocknote.com/svdppv.

STEWARDSHIP SPOTLIGHT

Last weekend the priests spoke about stewardship of treasure. You were asked to pledge your commitment of giving to Nativity for 2024. This week, a seminarian will ask for your support of the Annual Seminaries Appeal.

While it is true that the goal of living a life of stewardship is for people to support the parish, it is not the only appeal for your money that we support. That is why we encourage you to give 5% to Nativity and 5% to other charities of your choice; we call these 2nd Pocket opportunities. The Seminaries Appeal and the Archbishop Catholic Appeal are two of these opportunities we provide to you.

We do try to limit the appeals for your giving at Nativity. The goal is for people to tithe to the offertory. Do know that as a tithing parish, your offertory supports many appeals throughout the year. Your giving becomes our giving. For a full list of where your offertory contributions was given refer to the Annual Report provided in the October 29 bulletin.

PRAYER FOR PEACE

our Peace. Therefore, Mother of God and our Mother, we come before you and we seek refuge in your Immaculate Heart. Mother of mercy, we appeal for mercy! Queen of Peace, we appeal for peace! Touch the hearts of those imprisoned by hatred; convert those who fuel and foment conflict. Dry the tears of children—at this hour, so many are weeping!—be present to those who are elderly and alone; strengthen the wounded and the sick; protect those forced to leave their lands and their loved ones; console the crestfallen; awaken new hope.

To you we entrust and consecrate our lives and every fiber of our being, all that we possess and all that we are, forever. To you we consecrate the Church, so that in her witness to the love of Jesus before the world, she may be a sign of harmony and an instrument of peace. To you we consecrate our world, to you we consecrate especially those countries and regions at war.

Your faithful people call you the dawn of salvation; Mother, grant that glimmers of light may illumine the dark night of conflict. Dwelling-place of the Holy Spirit, inspire the leaders of nations to seek paths of peace. Queen of all peoples, reconcile your children, seduced by evil, blinded by power and hate. You, who are close to all, shorten our distances. You, who have compassion on everyone, teach us to care for one another. You, who reveal the Lord's tender love, make us witnesses of his consolation and peace. Mother, Queen of Peace, pour forth into our hearts God's gift of harmony. Amen.

"By ourselves, Mother, we cannot succeed; without your Son, we can do nothing. But you bring us back to Jesus, who is our Peace."

Mary, look at us! We stand here before you. You are our Mother, and you know our struggles and our hurts. Queen of Peace, you suffer with us and for us, as you see so many of your children suffering from the conflicts and wars that are tearing our world apart.

This is a dark hour. This is a dark hour, Mother. In this dark hour, we look to you, and in the light of your countenance we entrust ourselves and our problems to your maternal Heart, which knows our anxieties and fears. How great was your concern when there was no place for Jesus at the inn! How great was your fear when you fled in haste to Egypt because Herod sought to kill him! How great was your anguish before you found him in the Temple! Yet, Mother, amid those trials, you showed your strength, you acted boldly: you trusted in God and responded to concern with tender care, to fear with love, to anguish with acceptance. Mother, you did not step back, but at decisive moments you always took initiative: with haste you visited Elizabeth; at the wedding feast of Cana you prompted Jesus' first miracle; in the Upper Room you kept the disciples united. And when, on Calvary, a sword pierced your heart, Mother, by your humility and strength you kept alive the hope of Easter through the night of sorrow.

Now, Mother, once more take the initiative for us, in these times rent by conflicts and laid waste by the fire of arms. Turn your eyes of mercy towards our human family, which has strayed from the path of peace, preferred Cain to Abel and lost the ability to see each other as brothers and sisters dwelling in a common home. Intercede for our world, in such turmoil and great danger. Teach us to cherish and care for life—each and every human life!—and to repudiate the folly of war, which sows death and eliminates the future.

Mary, how many times have you come, urging prayer and repentance. Yet, caught up in our own needs and distracted by the things of this world, we have turned a deaf ear to your appeal. In your love for us, you never abandon us, Mother. Lead us by the hand. Lead us by the hand and bring us to conversion; help us once again to put God first. Help us to preserve unity in the Church and to be artisans of communion in our world. Make us realize once more the importance of the role we play; strengthen our sense of responsibility for the cause of peace as men and women called to pray, worship, intercede and make reparation for the whole human race.

By ourselves, Mother, we cannot succeed; without your Son, we can do nothing. But you bring us back to Jesus, who is
